Topics generally include sports, history, geography, politics, entertainment, random and it that was not enough to choose from we can even add questions of your choice, such as your own company or team project.

Tailor the activity by embedding corporate specific missions. This is a great way to make the experience even more engaging!

Option 1, our professional MC reads out the questions or shows you a photo or video displayed on our big screen and the teams answer these on the tablet. This creates a traditional quiz type event where all teams are answering the same questions at the same time.

Option 2

Another option is to have teams run independently going at whatever speed they choose and answer any topic they choose with questions displayed on the tablet. Teams can be on different questions or event different topics. This format is perfect for small teams.
