GAOLBREAK at CORK CITY GAOL is a wonderful way to explore an iconic historical landmark in a whole new way.

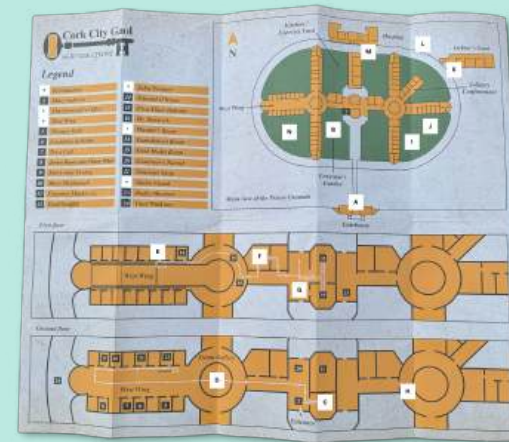

Using our custom tablet-based software, this competitive team building event will pit you against your colleagues as you earn points by exploring the cells, landings, governor's office, exercise yard, gatehouse and more. Questions are based on the exhibits and information panels throughout the Gaol, as well as testing your general knowledge and historical know-how.

You'll have to navigate around the corridors and grounds to undertake challenges such as archery, exercise routines and devising prison reform.

HOW DOES IT WORK?

Each team sets off from a different location around the Gaol and navigates around the building and grounds with their tablet and map to guide them.

You will have to complete the challenges for each section before moving on to the next.

Once done, you return to the map and can travel to your next destination...

Questions and tasks are based on historical facts, general knowledge, local customs and culture.

Type an answer, take a photo, make a video. Some questions are timed, some are multiple choice. Bonus challenges may pop up on screen throughout the activity for a chance to earn extra points.

"Such a well planned event, the group are delighted, thank you so much." - LILLY

"We had an absolute blast, the event was fantastic." - RSA

A group of people are gathered in a room with a rustic stone wall. In the center, a man in a black leather jacket is laughing heartily while holding a tablet. To his right, another man in a dark jacket and glasses is also laughing. In the foreground, the back of a person's head and shoulders are visible, looking towards the group. The atmosphere is joyful and collaborative.

“We had a great event, myself and the team have high praise for yourself and the team. Will recommend to coworkers.”
- STRYKER
